Latex Paint in unusable condition  is a high volume waste - everyone has a few cans which adds up once it all gets to the landfill. Latex paint must be made solid to avoid spills at curbside and at landfills.  Please recycle empty, brush-wiped metal cans.	10 cans or less  Air-dry or harden with absorbents (kitty litter, vermiculiate, ground cobs or paint hardener from hardware or home improvement stores). Works best in summer and with small amounts of paint. Once paint is hard, remove lids so garbage handlers know material is solid and acceptable.	10 to 25 cans  Line one or two medium-size boxes with thick sheet plastic or use 5-gallon pails. Pour in paint up to one-inch deep at a time for air-drying, deeper if adding absorbents. If using absorbents, stir often until paint hardens then put boxes in trash. More than 25 cans  Same as above, but use more boxes or buckets.	Unwanted but usable latex paint.  -- Contact civic organizations or non-profit agencies for home improvement projects.  -- Can be recycled and sold again as paint. See earthpaintscs.com for locations in Rock County. Fees may apply.  -- Dispose of as waste paint (at left).
